[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO APRIL 16.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON April 15 —In the Senate a resolution was offered and referred to a select committee, providing for a contract in the name of the Senate with some paper to furnish a condensed synopsis of the proceedings and debates, the same to be free of access for authorized agencies and to continue in force for one year

Johnson of Maryland moved to reconsider the resolution fixing the time of adjournment

Anthony proposed to extend the time to Wednesday the 17th

Pending the consideration of this motion the Senate adjourned

WASHINGTON, April 16 —In the Senate, Fessenden called up Anthony's motion to adjourn on Wednesday the 17th

Sumner moved to substitute Thursday the 18th

A debate ensued similar to that of a few days previous Chandler wished to correct a misapprehension that Copperheads or traitors would be confirmed as intimated by several Senators

Fessenden said he was not aware of such intimation and asked Chandler to name them

Chandler replied that he alluded to Senator Fessenden

Fessenden rejoined that he would treat the remark with the contempt it deserved He argued that it was the duty of the Senate to stay till all vacancies should be filled

Davis, of Kentucky claimed that the President had the right to nominate whom he pleased, provided the nominee be competent

After further debate the resolution was adopted providing for adjournment on Thursday the 18th

WASHINGTON, April 15 —The President sent to the Senate communications from the Secretary of the Interior, Secretary of State and Attorney General stating that absence of Territorial officers have invariably been under leave previously granted in cases of necessity During such absences it is observed no part of the expense is charged to the Government

The Austrian Minister warmly thanked Seward for his kindness and promptness in responding to the request of the Emperor of Austria relative to Maximilian

The Senate Committee on Indian Affairs will visit Western Kansas after the close of the session with a view of selecting a location for the Indians of that State and their prompt removal This visit is in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Senate.

The Supreme Court has entertained a motion to admit Bradley a colored lawyer of Massachusetts, to practice in the courts of the United States

CHICAGO April 16 —The Republican's special says the Committee on Foreign Relations have reported adversely upon Raymond's nomination

Senate indefinitely postponed Capron's nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture. This retains Newton unless the President withdraws Capron

Chief Justice Chase has delayed the consideration of letters applying for appointments as registers of bankruptcy

Chief Justice Chase's opinion in relation to filing Mississippi bill, is lengthy The principal point made is that an application for an injunction against the President for performing official duties cannot be entertained by the court

The Attorney General makes no opposition to the filing of the Georgia bill, therefore leave will be granted

Thursday has been fixed as next meeting day instead of Friday, that being Good Friday Sharkey will then file another bill

The Supreme Court in the case of the ship Peterhoff, decided that there could be no legal blockade of the Rio Grande, because the river was in part neutral, and ordered the return of the vessel and all her cargo, not contraband to her owners

The nomination of Kirby Smith as Consul to Panama, was reconsidered and again confirmed

By a decision of the Supreme Court, process must be served on defendants in injunction cases sixty days before a return can be made. Subpœnas were issued today for defendants in Georgia As the Court will adjourn in May, before the sixty days expire the return day will necessarily be at the next regular term in December The case must be postponed until that time

Gen Frank Herron has been nominated for United States Marshal of Louisiana.

CHICAGO, April 16 —A letter says the President has sent nominations to fill vacancies

Gen Rousseau has been ordered to Fort Vancouver, Washington Territory, to relieve Gen Steele

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations is disposed to recommend the confirmation of Raymond if Motley persists in his resignation One says Motley desires to hold on but this is contradicted by others

A decided majority of the Senate is in favor of displacing Newton Commissioner of Agriculture and it is desired that Agricultural Societies throughout the country shall write recommending a good man

The Herald's special says information has been received at the Head quarters of the army that the Crow Indians are reluctant to join the hostile tribes and probably will not unite. The crow tribes are the largest tribes in Dacotah, and muster 1000 warriors They are believed to exercise considerable influence, and will probably prevent other tribes from joining the war confederation

Letters from Admiral Dahlgren and Minister Hovey show that the difficulty with Peru originated from the insulting conduct of ex rebel Tucker, the Peruvian Admiral, towards some Federal officers, who thereupon refused to give the customary salute, though they invariably saluted the Peruvian flag Our Government expressed a hope that Tucker's conduct will be disapproved by Peru, and that he will be required to apologize. A WONDERFUL JUGGLER —The mediæval travelers in Cathay were in the habit of telling extravagant stories of the strange people they had visited A magician is thus described lived about sixty years ago took a wooden ball with several holes in it through which long thongs were passed, and taking hold of one of these slung it into the air it went so high that we lost sight of it altogether There remained only a little thong in the conjuror's hand and he desired one of the boys who assisted him to lay hold of it and mount He did so climbing by the thong, and we lost sight of him also The conjuror then called to him three times but getting no answer, he snatched up a knife as if in a great rage, laid hold of the thong and disappeared also By and-by he threw down one of the boy's hands, then a foot, then the other hand, then the other foot then the trunk, and last of all the head Then he came down himself all puffing and panting, and with his clothes all bloody but presently he took the lad's limbs and laid them together in their places and gave a kick, when presto! there was the boy, who got up and stood before him All this astonished me beyond measure, and I had an attack of palpitation like that which overcame me once before in the presence of the Sultan of India, when he showed me something of the same kind This narrative has been the grounds of similar feats which are recorded of the old history and their most scholars are supposed unphilosophical while to pass There was delusion somewhere, but where Did Ibn Batuta see something which resembled at he described or did he dream the whole thing? Perhaps he had taken opium That he was a deliberate liar we are loth to believe

A Hateful Word

The "organ," in its Sunday morning article of this week, varies its discourse so as to present some genuine Democratic gospel. In this political sermon for Sunday reading, the editor evinces talents that would well qualify him to become pastor of the "Church of the Holy Rebellion," could such an organization be found. The text on which this discourse is built is a resolution adopted by the Democratic Convention of Washington Territory, and the discourse itself consists of reproofs launched at that body, for admitting that the Southern people were lately engaged in "insurrection" or rebellion. The whole is followed by salutary reflections and weighty admonitions addressed to the Democracy, enjoining them to beware of and avoid admitting that the late "unpleasantness" was a rebellion, or that there was anything wrong or criminal in the action of the South from the beginning to the end of the struggle. To characterize the "unpleasantnesses" as a "rebellion," and the Confederates as "rebels," the "organ" thinks is particularly atrocious. This, it says, is one of the devices of the opponents of the Democracy, which has had great effect in "revolutionizing the Government,"—or to put it in other language, the potency of these words contributed greatly to the overthrow of the Confederacy. Therefore that paper expresses its serious regrets at "seeing Democrats lending themselves to perversions of language which have tended so largely to the overthrow of the fundamental principles of free government!" The Southern movement was put down by calling it a rebellion and dealing with it as such. This the organ admits. But it is pained at the result, and thinks it could scarcely have been accomplished had the rebellion been called by some [illegible] name. It is no wonder therefore that this word should be the object of that paper's detestation.

This [illegible] preaches Democratic gospel in this [illegible] lately in arms against the Federal Government were acting under the authority of the [illegible] state governments. A citizen cannot lawfully [illegible] punished for an act done under the authority of his State. Democrats should avoid the use of popular phrases which falsify [illegible] To recognize the war as an insurrection or rebellion is to admit the destruction of State governments and to deny State authority, and that [illegible] engaged in the insurrection are guilty [illegible] which they are severally liable [illegible] and condemned at any time." This is [illegible] enough, certainly. To declare the [illegible] movement a rebellion is to deny [illegible] authority—that is, to deny the right of [illegible] to withdraw from the Union or [illegible] of its citizens against the National Government. This is what Union men have always [illegible] but from the above statement it appears that the Democrats hold differently [illegible] it is substantially asserted [illegible] right to quit the Union, that the allegiance of citizens is due to the [illegible] general Government, that to call the [illegible] people a rebellion is [illegible] which means those principles [illegible] secession is a State right, and that [illegible] bound to obey his State as against the [illegible] of the Union. The whole argument is founded on the idea that the State is superior to the General Government in authority, and that [illegible] in collision, the author [illegible] and should be obeyed. Let [illegible] or again assert that the doctrine of secession as put in practice by the revolt [illegible] doctrine of its party. Let it never again deny that this doctrine is a part of [illegible] much in the extract we have [illegible] and it is therefore [illegible] further [illegible]

If [illegible] lawfully be punished [illegible] the authority of his State, this [illegible] above any other. And if [illegible] States is paramount, why [illegible] the right to withdraw from the [illegible] States assumed to do? Admit the [illegible] the conclusion cannot be [illegible] hold the views enunciated [illegible] given, all Democrats are [illegible] their principles, then [illegible] the preservation of the Union and who believe that the Government of the Union has power [illegible] existence, are justified [illegible] traitors. Traitors they are if the [illegible] represents them, traitors [illegible] and the Union, because they hold that any State or combination of States, has a right to destroy the Union and the Government.

We are told that "to recognize the war as an insurrection or rebellion is to admit the destruction of State governments." This is the most candid admission we have lately seen in a Democratic paper. The national party, the party which carried the country through the struggle and prevented the destruction of the Union, have constantly dealt with the secession movement as a rebellion and never regarded it as anything else. It was treated as such in all the proclamations of President Lincoln; it was regarded as such in all the acts of Congress, and has always been considered as such by the Judicial Department. No branch of the Government has ever recognized it in any other light. Now, therefore, for the conclusion or consequence, as stated by this Democratic organ. The governments of these States were destroyed. This is a full justification of the Union party. It is proof of the correctness and consistency of the course that party has pursued. Here we find these facts admitted even by an enemy.

But if this movement was not a rebellion, what justification can the National Government find for its conduct in suppressing it? What right had the Government to prosecute a war against these States, if their separation from the Union and institution of a distinct government was nothing more than a legitimate exercise of "State authority?" None whatever. This would place the entire wrong at the door of National Government. It would make that party the aggressor, and throw on it the whole responsibility for this long, bloody and devastating conflict. The Government can never justify itself for its course except by regarding this rising as a rebellion. And if the time should ever come when a majority of the people regarded it as anything else, the Union of these States will be at an end.

Most Democrats resent the imputation that they are secessionists in principle. No one who has read the article from which we have made these extracts, or who may read these extracts alone, will hesitate to pronounce their author an advocate of the very same doctrine which the rebel States put in practice in 1860–61.

The act organizing Idaho Territory has been amended by Congress so that no Legislature can meet till December, 1868. In view of the disgraceful scene at Boise City last winter, Congress would be justified in depriving Idaho of a Legislature for ten years to come.

The rumor of Hon. Charles Sumner's retirement from public life at the close of his present Senatorial term, is generally credited in Washington, where, it is said, he made the statement to a number of his friends. His intention, it is added, is to visit Europe in December of 1869, and remain abroad for at least five years, part of which time he will spend in consulting the Continental libraries, preparatory to writing a work of his own, semi political and semi literary, on the history of slavery, from the earliest times down to its suppression in the United States.—New York Gazette.

STATE ITEMS

An Owyhee paper says this State should give the people of that portion of Jordan valley which are within Oregon's boundaries a county organization of their own by another year.

It is understood that the Albany and Canyon City Road will be completed by the 10th of May. The opening of this road will be of great advantage to Linn and the adjoining counties.

George Mercer has been awarded the contract for surveying the western portion of Benton county, including the Yaquina Bay country. This will be highly advantageous to settlers.

The Democrat advises that the Court House Square at Albany be fenced, sown in grass and decorated with trees. Advice that every county ought to follow in regard to its public buildings.

Documents for the postmaster at White Horse, Baker county, Oregon, are in the Ruby City office, which makes it probable that an office has been established at that place. So says the Owyhee Avalanche.

The following is the Albany weather item for the month of March: Two days rainy, five days showery and 24 days no rain. Seven nights rainy and showery; 22 nights frosty and two nights no rain or frost. Depth of water that fell during the month, one and one-sixteenth inches.

The Democrat of Albany says: There has been considerable talk about the Santiam Canal. Thus far nothing definite has transpired. Sundry surveys have been made of as many routes, and other preliminary steps have been taken; and no doubt something definite will soon be determined upon. That, when constructed, will be very beneficial, not only to Albany, but to all the country through which it may run, particularly if it be deep enough to float down logs from the mountains.

The Albany Democrat says of the prospects for a wheat crop: We have recently conversed with several intelligent farmers about the prospects of the wheat crop in this section of Oregon. They all concur in the opinion that last fall there was not as much fall wheat sown by about one-half as has been usual; but that what was sown is doing well. Hundreds and thousands of acres, however, of Sonora, Club and Sawyer wheat have either been sowed or will be sowed this spring. Some of the spring wheat is already up and looks exceedingly well, and is growing thriftily.

The Owyhee Avalanche says: Copper leads in the Eagle Creek mines, Oregon, are assuming considerable prominence. Several Owyheeans are extensively interested thereaway—among whom are W. Crane, Chas S. Peck and Col. Davis. We were shown letters of a late date from there which speak enthusiastically of the large size and wonderful richness of the veins, and some of the samples of ore sent to Mr. Peck are full of native copper. So great is the confidence reposed in the value of these copper mines, that a contract for a long term of years has been made with the O. S. N. Co. to ship the metal at a stated price per ton.

An Albany paper thus notices the improvements now going on about that place: "A goodly number of houses are undergoing sundry repairs, alterations, etc.; and in the front of many dwellings shade trees have recently been set out. Gardening has commenced in earnest. We counted over sixty houses that have either just been finished, or are in process of completion. One noticeable feature is the fact that all this is a healthy growth. There is nothing of the mushroom in it—nothing of the adventitious. It is all natural. The country is pushing up and stimulating the town. Unimproved lots sell all the way from $100 to $1000, according to location, eligibility, etc. The material for the College building is being hauled on to the grounds. Mr. Markham has commenced building a large warehouse, or more properly wharf house, below Pierce's Ferry Landing. He intends engaging in the wharfage business again."

A correspondent of an Idaho paper gives a romantic account of the Indian "Bigfoot," who is supposed to be the person who is doing the principal part of the scalping now going on in Eastern Oregon. We clip the following: I am informed by Mr. Reid, a famous mountaineer, who is now with General Crook, that this Indian is known among his compatriots under the name of Oniux. Reid once had a hand-to-hand combat with him, and says he is considerably more than six feet in hight, of powerful build, and that his foot is fourteen inches and three-quarters in length, which has been verified by many of our citizens who have measured his track. After General Crook's battle on Tearass Plain, in January, some of the captured squaws said that Oniux was killed in the fight. Such could not have been true, as Mr. George Hill and party, who followed the Indians that run off the stock in Jordan Valley some two weeks ago, in the neighborhood of the Owyhee Ferry, discovered the unmistakable mammoth foot tracks which bore evidence of having been impressed by something more substantial than Bigfoot's ghost.

THE POOR LITTLE SUFFERER WILL BE IMMEDIATELY relieved by using MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, allays all pain, and gives the child quiet, natural sleep, from which it awakes invigorated and refreshed. THROAT DISEASES.—We would call attention to Brown's Bronchial Troches. We have found them efficacious in allaying Irritation in the Throat and Bronchia, and would commend them to the attention of Public Speakers and others troubled with affections of the Throat. They are also an excellent remedy for Hoarseness resulting from cold.—Congregationalist, Boston.

The subscriptions to the Astoria lot sale are so far taken that the distribution has been definitely fixed for Wednesday, the 15th day of May. Agents have been appointed in most of the towns, and H. B. Parker, Esq., is General Agent. The distribution will take place at the Court House, under the management of the County officers. The price of a share is fifty dollars. Among the prizes is a homestead and three lots worth $5000, which some one will get for $50. OBITUARY.

Departed this life on the 15th day of April, 1867, in Buttevile, Marion county, Oregon, Mrs. Amy Batchelier, the happy companion of David Batchelier, with whom she lived 33 years, 37 of which she had been a consistent member of the M. E. Church. She suffered much for many years, but always patiently. As her life wore away her light shone bright, making it apparent that it is good to die the death of the righteous. She was buried on the 16th, which was her 59th birthday. D. B.

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

JOHN PARROTT, CHAS. E. McLANE,
WM. C. RALSTON, A. HAYWARD,
LOUIS A. CARNETT.

LOUIS A. CARNETT, President and Manager.
JOHN HEWSTON, Jr., Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS.

One-eighth of one per cent. (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent. for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 750½@949½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.
Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

FOR COINING GOLD

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

CHARGES AT U. S. BRANCH MINT.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution.

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 600½@760 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 760½@830 parts gold 11 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ¼ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

810 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return at refining charge of 8 cents. mh1d2p3m

Chignon Horrors Discovery.—The fashionable world, or at least the chignon-wearing gender of it, has lately been startled into a real, sensational horror, by an announcement from a scientific source that the chignons of foreign manufacture, now so commonly worn in this country, are infested by myriads of minute animals called "gregarines." The London, Paris, New York and other metropolitan papers, have much to say about the matter—some seriously, others in a vein of comical humor. To give the ladies some idea of what they may be unconsciously carrying around on their heads, we quote the following from a correspondent of the New York World:

"To the editor of the World: I have caused my chignon to be carefully examined to see if the gregarines were resident in it, as your article stated. Exposing a portion of it to 250 degrees of dry heat, my chemical friend, Professor R. Ch[illegible], counted, through his microscope, 1,127 parasites on one-half inch of surface. The average length of each hair was 12 inches. This gives 27,048 as the number of pediculi in just one hair. By a patient calculation I found that the number of hairs [illegible] a piece of tape two inches in length will easily enclose, are about 2,507. This I obtained by laborious and careful counting. The result multiplied by average number of parasites on each hair, 27,048, gives the astonishing figures, 109,431,216 as the estimate of the number of these horrible gregarines upon each section of the hair inclosed by two inches of tape. I was further [illegible] by discovering that the hair of the chignon, carefully divided, required thirty pieces of tape, two inches long, to inclose it in separate particles. The 30 packages, estimating the gregarines in one package, as an average, furnishes the almost incomprehensible number of 3,282,936,480 episoa, which every lady who wears one of these purchased chignons of ordinary size carries on the back of her head. The inexorable truth [illegible] applied to the revelations of the microscope [illegible] this astonishing result. The facts need no commentary, as they admit of no refutation. I need hardly add that, having had to destroy my chignon to obtain these results, I have not yet bought another, and don't intend to."

[illegible] also, is'nt it, ladies? A correspondent of the [illegible] Morning Herald describes the animals. He [illegible] obtained some hair from a chignon, purchased at a fashionable hairdresser's, discovered innumerable specimens of "gregarines" at the free end of the hair, as nearly as he could estimate about a thousand in half an [illegible], and he calls them "episoa," a term applied to [illegible] of an animal, [illegible]. He then proceeded to [illegible] them by means of warmth. Some of the hairs [illegible] around the neck of a hen, and at the end of [illegible] hours a most extraordinary change in the ova appeared to have taken place. The hairs were swarming with the [illegible]; nearly all, indeed, were more [illegible] freed from the envelop, and presented many of the [illegible] peculiarities of the pediculus humanus. In many the mouth was furnished with a [illegible] the antennae as long as the thorax, and the segments of the abdomen were clearly visible. [illegible] evident that no process to which the hair had as yet been submitted had ever impaired, much [illegible] the vitality of the "gregarines." He [illegible] thus: "In regard to these experiments as [illegible] the fact that many ladies are wearing, [illegible], upon their heads the germ of [illegible], which may at any moment spring into a vitality that would prove dis[illegible] beyond measure, and be by no means easy to eradicate—these horrible [illegible] multiplying with almost inconceivable rapidity, and [illegible] being governed by no well ascertained law."

[illegible].—Our police court might take a hint from one of the magistrates of Victoria, which, in practical results, might be beneficial to the good order of the city. Not long since a man was up on the charge of larceny, to which the prisoner pleaded guilty. The sitting magistrate [illegible] inquiry about him, and finding him to be an [illegible] the culprit as follows: "Well, [illegible] is fine and I shouldn't like to shut you up. [illegible]" [illegible]—"I'll bring you twenty men—" [illegible]—"Never mind them; you ought to go to some other part of the world, where your character is not so well established as it is here. As this is a trifling charge [illegible] with the crimes you have before been accused of committing, I shall give you a chance. You will [illegible] on your own recognizance to appear here in one week for punishment. In the meantime, I advise you to leave the country. If you do appear at the end of a week—" [illegible]—"If I appear here, your Worship! No fear of that, sir!" And the prisoner hobbled out of court and—probably came to Portland. That's the way they do it in Victoria.

[illegible] Coal.—Mr. Terwilliger, of Nehalem, on the coast below Clatsop, arrived in this city by the Oneonta, on Saturday night, bringing with him a couple of boxes of [illegible] coal from a mine situated about three and a half miles from the Nehalem river, and eight miles from the coast. He says the vein from which it was taken is [illegible] feet in thickness; that there are, one above the other, [illegible] which undoubtedly, at some [illegible] the aggregate will measure [illegible] than eight or nine feet in thickness. The supply [illegible] inexhaustible. The coal was, yesterday, used in a blacksmith's forge and found to burn freely and to give a good heat. The mine is owned in most part by Messrs. [illegible] Terwilliger and Charles Robinson. The cost of getting it out and to market, is thought to be far below the present market price for coal. If the confident expectations of the owners in respect of this and [illegible], prove correct, they have got a good thing.

New Books.—The following new books have just been [illegible] by the Portland Library: Lady Arlyn, by author "Cudjo's Cave," The Gulistan of Saadi, Pride of [illegible], by Mrs. Southworth, A New Atmosphere, by Gail Hamilton, Summer Rest, by Gail Hamilton, St. Elmo, by Augusta J. Evans, author of "Beulah," Six months at the White House, by Carpenter, The Morning [illegible] by O T Waite, Griffith Gaunt, by Chas. Reade, The Three Women of the Family, by author "Stepmother," [illegible], a Chronicle of Secession, by Harrington, Captain [illegible], of the Centipede, by Harry Gringo, Buchanan's [illegible], The South since the War, by Andrews, A Yankee in Canada, by Thoreau, The West Indies and [illegible] Main, Trollope, Comb's Phrenology, Autobiography of Dr. Carlyle, Rationalism in Europe, by Lecky, [illegible]. Arrangements are in progress by which it is expected that new books will be received every month [illegible].

[illegible] and Packets.—The long doubtful [illegible] the steamers of this coast, seem to have been [illegible] settled, at last. We are to have one [illegible] each week, to leave San Francisco on Saturdays and to arrive here Tuesdays or Wednesdays. Outside of the reports in the press, we learn that it is in contemplation by the new company, to put on another steamer—[illegible] a slow one—to run about twice a month, carrying [illegible] at the same price as per the packet line. The [illegible], Capt. Corno, of the packet line, will [illegible] Francisco to-day with about seven hundred tons. She will be followed in a few days by the Live Yankee.

[illegible]'s Court.—The following proceedings were had in the [illegible]der's Court yesterday:

[illegible], William Taylor; charged with an assault and battery upon Mrs. Victor [illegible] (same case as that of [illegible], in which the jury failed to agree), continued till to-day.

[illegible] against the same defendant, for breaking [illegible] fruit trees of Mrs. Seaman, was tried by a jury, [illegible] occupying nearly all the forenoon. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

[illegible] George Farley; charge, assault and battery; [illegible], the complaining witness failing to appear.

[illegible] for Portland.—The steamship Idaho left San Francisco at noon on Saturday, for Portland, with the following list of passengers: W A Bossful, Mrs A L [illegible] and infant, Miss J Seguin, Mrs Selling and [illegible], Mrs Pierce, H Bloom, D W Crane, Miss Wat[illegible], Mrs L B Dyer, M S Morgan, A J Nicklin, A J [illegible], D W Worthington, E Prag, J H Nicklin and wife, J Briggs, P Roberts, L Blair and wife, J A [illegible], J J Oswald, Geo Lawyer, D Powell, R E Burgess, [illegible] Donnelly, J J Hamilton, G W McCoy, Miss L Jackson, [illegible], and 73 in the steerage.

I. O. G. T. Elections.—The quarterly elections of officers for the lodges of Good Templars, take place in all the lodges of Oregon and Washington Territory during the present week. The next quarter begins on the first day of May and the installation in each lodge will occur at the first meeting in the quarter. There are three [illegible] in this city, six in Multnomah county and about [illegible] in the State. Each lodge has thirteen officers. The [illegible] of officers for all the lodges is, therefore, [illegible] army, to say nothing of the subordinates.

A Crazy Celestial.—A crazy Chinaman was arrested [illegible] night by one of the city policemen and kept in custody in the city jail till yesterday, when he was removed to the county jail to await an examination by the county court and commissioners, as to his insanity. He [illegible] from the upper country. His particular hobby seems to be of the kleptomaniac sort. None of his [illegible] can be induced to assume the charge of him, and it is likely the county may have to take care of him.

For Walla Walla.—Our young friend, Julius N. Moreland, who has resided for several years in this city and at [illegible], starts this morning for Walla Walla, intending to make his residence there. It is his purpose to engage in the practice of the law for which he has been [illegible] for some time. Julius is a "print," [illegible] the "craft" know him well and will be gratified to hear of his [illegible] in his new pursuit. He is one of our young men who [illegible] prosperity.

Fire at Vancouver.—The office building of the Chief [illegible] Officer, Captain Bobbitt, was burned to the ground about two o'clock yesterday morning. No fire had been used in the building, and it is, therefore, [illegible] that the destruction was planned and executed by an [illegible]. The building stood at the northeast corner of the ordnance grounds. We have no information as to the value of the building or the extent of the loss of books and papers.

The Baptist Church.—This building, on Fourth street, has lately been raised about two feet, and the basement room is now being finished. We are informed that the cupola is to be removed and a tower erected in front. The chapel room is to be finished as rapidly as the funds to defray expenses, can be procured.

The [illegible].—This brig was towed over to St. Vancouver yesterday morning, for the purpose of unloading Government freight, of which she has on board about [illegible] and fifty tons. Upon completing the [illegible] of her cargo, she will drop down the river for a cargo of [illegible].

[illegible] Mistake.—In our report of the fire at Walla Walla, the other day, the figures for the loss, got in as "[illegible]," instead of $5,000, as they should have [illegible]. The latter figures will probably cover all the loss.

[illegible].—Mr. Wm. Morton, G. M. of the I. O. G. T. of [illegible], will start this morning for an official tour [illegible] up the Willamette valley.

The River.—The Willamette river has been, for several days, rising—at first from the back water of the Columbia, and then from the heavy rains of the last week. The Columbia is not now rising, and the Willamette was reported, yesterday, to be at a stand, at Oregon City. Some of the lower wharves of this city are submerged. A heavy current has been running for two or three days, and there is some drift running yet.

A Rumor.—The regular corps of sensation carriers in this city, were yesterday spreading a rumor that the next ecclesiastical wonder expected to visit this city is a Mormon Bishop. The name of the apostle was not bruited with the news, nor was the time of his expected advent stated. It is probably a rumor that won't do to tie to, any more than would the thirty or forty wived bishop, in case of his arrival.

Willamette Freights.—Arrived per steamer Alert from Oregon City April 22d: 124 gunnies bacon, 7 cases mdse, 1 pkge woolen socks, 13 boxes produce, 12 hf. bbls do, 1 keg, 2 boxes eggs, 2,701 qr sks flour, 1 bale sacks, 178 boxes wheat, 240 bags feed, 4 bales woolen goods, 28 bags oats, 5 cases lard, 6,000 feet lumber.

Anniversary.—The 26th day of this month, the anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into the United States, will be observed by the lodges of this city by a sociable at their hall, an address and other usual and appropriate exercises. We have not learned who will deliver the address.

Odd Fellow's Lodge.—Upon the application of several members of the order of Odd Fellows, the Grand Master of this jurisdiction has granted a charter for a lodge at La Grande, Oregon, and it will soon be instituted by a special Deputy Grand Master.

Arrived.—The little schooner Mist arrived from Oak Point yesterday afternoon.

Chinook Salmon and Trout.—At the Union Fish Market, Washington street, near Second, may be found this morning a fine lot of Chinook salmon and trout, received last evening—the former from Rainier and the latter from Lewis river.

At the Lafayette Restaurant under the Oro Fino Hall, may be found on the table every luxury the market affords, at the cheapest price for epicures.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.
THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE!
Pain Killer taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else. For sore throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and relief is immediate and the cure positive.
It should not be forgotten that the Pain Killer is equally as good to take internally as to use externally. Each bottle is wrapped with full directions for its use. Dyspepsia can be and is cured every day by the use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. This is the most wonderful and valuable medicine ever known for this disease. Its action upon the system is entirely different from any other preparation known. The patient, while taking this medicine, may eat anything the appetite craves. Sold by all medicine dealers. mh20d&w1m

Bronchitis or Chronic Sore Throat.—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. The irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood. If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settles into confirmed consumption. Allen's Lung Balsam will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into the consumption. For sale by dealers in family medicine generally. ta20

If, as the old adage declares, "Health is the Greatest earthly Blessing," then every effort to preserve it pays well.
DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS
Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.
They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.
There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.
They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.
A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel
WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the [illegible] and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhoea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.
They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel-plate side label.
Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Mustang Liniment.
OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!
Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J. L. DOWNING.
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.
"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic." J. W. HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.
"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."
It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. over the top.
An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.
This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the carload, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.
E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.
Lyon's Extract of Pure Jamaica Ginger—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "Lyon's" Pure Extract. Take no other.
Caution—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.
Death to Fleas.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but strictly harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. Lyon, and the private stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

THE CIVILIZATION OF ANCIENT ROME.

POMPEII, January 14, 1867

The city was destroyed by an eruption of Mount Vesuvius on the 24th of August, 79. On the 5th of February, in the year 63, an earthquake threw down many of the buildings, and the town had not fully recovered from its effects when it was overwhelmed Vesuvius at the time was supposed to be an extinct volcano, Seventy two years before Christ, Spartacus with his band made the crater his camp, and was there besieged by Clodius The crater showed no signs of ever returning to activity, and the people lived in confident security from any such catastrophe as that which suddenly fell upon them The terrible storm of red hot cinders, stones and ashes which fell upon the roofs of the houses set them on fire, and all the wood work was consumed, leaving only the walls, so that we must employ the imagination to reproduce the city precisely as it was at the time of its destruction

In the year 1848, a peasant, in sinking a well, discovered a painted chamber containing statues, which excited public attention and interested the King of Naples, who was then engaged in excavating Herculaneum. It was surmised that beneath the luxuriant soil might be found the long lost Pompeii Through all the years that had gone by, the people of the neighboring towns had seen an ancient wall in a field on the southern slope of Vesuvius, but no one had inquired as to what it was, for ancient walls and crumbling ruins are plentiful in this part of the world. But excavations were commenced and the wall was discovered to be that of an amphitheatre. Other explorations brought to light the walls of the city, which have been traced far enough to show that they enclose a small area, three-fourths of a mile in length and a half of mile in width This was the city proper, but the suburbs were quite extensive The walls are of great solidity and had a double parapet, wide enough to permit two chariots to drive abreast

There were eight gates, the principal one being [illegible] the side of the city toward Herculaneum. To obtain a correct view of the place, let us imagine ourselves as entering in on the morning of its destruction We are walking along a road paved with irregular blocks of stone, deeply worn by the wheels of numerous vehicles On our right is the [illegible] where galleys are riding at anchor. Fishermen's boats are drawn up on the beach It is a pleasant view which we have of the dark blue [illegible] across the bay southward; while in the west we behold the town of Baiæ—named for [illegible] pilot Baius who died there. We can see the Roman fleet riding at anchor there, commanded by Admiral Pliny, who is a professed naturalist as well as an Admiral

At our left hand rises Mount Vesuvius, which bears some marks of having once been a volcano, but no one knows when it was, and the people of Pompeii have little fear of catastrophe from subterranean fire How lovely the scene! Villas of opulent citizens, orange groves as beautiful as the fabled gardens of Hesperides, vineyards loaded with clusters of choicest grapes, olive groves [illegible] the mountain, gardens blooming with [illegible] sweetest perfume, the songs of birds and the [illegible] bees in the air, the summer sun smiling [illegible] existence of Pompeii 1787 years ago [illegible]

[illegible] this picture more complete we must [illegible] which have been [illegible] furniture of the parlor [illegible] of the shop, the contents [illegible] walls, to the Mosaic [illegible] to us the manners and cus[illegible]

[illegible] we pass through the [illegible] where the patricians erected monuments [illegible] and friends One of them bears [illegible]

MARCUS ARRIUS DIOMEDE,
[illegible] Magistrate of the Suburb
[illegible] the Memory of
[illegible] self and family [illegible]

The [illegible] but the flag is still [illegible] the master, with his [illegible] directions to the [illegible] the figure-head of [illegible] Many a good [illegible] name, has sailed over the [illegible]

[illegible] will be to linger in this [illegible] where the ashes of [illegible] be soon! Their names [illegible] urns—but what they [illegible] hopes and aspiration, [illegible] all this is in oblivion.

[illegible] THE CITY

[illegible] the city gate we come to an [illegible] the accommodation of travelers [illegible] too late at night to enter the city. We [illegible] entering its portal No [illegible] that a host once stood here where we stand [illegible] to his guests, attending [illegible] wants [illegible] sat here and drank [illegible] and told their stories and cracked their [illegible] talked what General Titus [illegible] using it, destroying [illegible] people and bringing [illegible] them to Rome to be [illegible] they drink an extra glass [illegible] hear their dusty [illegible] rooms

[illegible] we notice grooves in the [illegible] fell A sun dial on the [illegible] his sunny day, just as [illegible] bygone centuries, for [illegible] which the Almighty has [illegible] counts the revolving cycles [illegible] of a thousandth part of a [illegible]

[illegible] gate we read the notices [illegible] which are to be played [illegible] the other side of the [illegible] we will visit by and by.

[illegible] right is a hotel—larger [illegible] walls—not very spacious however, when compared with modern establishments for the accommodation of travelers, It is kept by Julius Polybius, who has a checkerboard for a sign There is a wide door opening to the stable yard where horses and chariots were standing when the eruption overwhelmed the city

Upon the other side of the street was the drinking saloon of Perrinnius Nimphorois, who had marble tables for the convenience of his guests, and a furnace for getting up hot drinks, whisky punches, and gin slings and other liquors—for the the convivial Romans It is an old established house, for the walls are scribbled all over by the guests Next beyond is a house such as men whose steps incline to virtue take care to avoid Its walls are covered with frescoes, and its floors are of mosaic There are others of like character in the city—public houses of vice

A surgeon lived next door, who had a garden in the rear of his dwelling The walls of his parlors and sleeping rooms are painted in fresco, showing that he was a gentleman of taste. The instruments which he used—knives, forceps and saws—are well preserved. We may see them in the museum in Naples.

On the same side of the street we find the Custom house, with steelyards and measures for weighing and measuring The scales give correct weight, for they were verified at the capital in the eighth year of Vespasian, who was made emperor in the year 70, and as the city was destroyed in the year 79, it follows that they were sealed in the year preceding.

HOUSE OF SALLUST

Sallust, the historian, lived in Rome, but there was another Sallust in Pompeii, who owned one of the finest mansions in the city, having a front on three streets But the lower story was occupied mainly by shops from which he doubtless derived a comfortable income. The shops on either side of the main entrance were occupied, one by an oil and the other by a wine merchant. Here are the jars of the oil merchant, standing just as they did when the owner fled through this doorway in haste and consternation so many centuries ago Ponderous jars they are, capable of holding 1,000 quarts, as we see by the gauge marks In the shop of the wine merchants we see upon the wall a painting of a wine cart, or rather a hogshead on four wheels, from which slaves are filling earthern jars Here customers filled their glasses, told their stories, talked nonsense and became boozy

But entering the house of Sallust, we find its general plan very much like the Italian villas of the day—an inner court in which is a garden, a fountain surrounded by a portico or colonnade, from which we may pass in to the various rooms We stand in this Atrium, or court. There is the marble fountain—no water gurgling—but the marble basin remains, and the cherub who poured the water from his plump lips. On one side of the court is the triclinium, or dining room and adjoining it the library There was no need of a large apartment for books, for the best which this patrician of Pompeii could show were but a few rolls of parchment. The walls of the bed rooms are bright with frescoes of dancing girls, of gods and goddesses Fluted Doric columns of marble stand around the court, which supported a trellis for grape vines and creepers

Think of the place as it was once—the master of the house sitting here surrounded by his family, his wife and children—eating their food at this marble table—choice grapes purpling in the warm sun over their heads, orange trees golden with fruits, roses, hyacinths and jessamines in this court, birds swelling their songs in the trees, slaves attendant upon the family, Jewish maidens, or men from Gaul, taken as captive in war and sold into bondage Around this court stood Etruscan vases, marble urns, and statues of great men On the walls are frescoes illustrative of Grecian fable—the story of Diana and Actæon

Let us for a moment consider ourselves a guest in this princely establishment We walk around the court accompanied by the patrician's daughter, a fair Roman maiden, who has abundant wealth for supplying all her wants She wears a robe of Indian silk, and a mantle also wrought in the far East, dyed with the unfading colors of Tyre She has golden bracelets on her arms, coils of solid gold wrought in the form of serpents She has massive ear knobs, rings and pendants, brooches of cornelian and amethyst The rings on her fingers are set with diamonds, pearls and jasper She has a golden chain and necklace wrought in leaves of oak, with pendant acorns Could we but enter her chamber, we should find an elaborately furnished toilet, combs of ivory, vases of perfume and cosmetics, a silver tipped thimble, needles, thread, spools of silk, scissors crochet needles, embroidery and fine linen These chambers resounded with her songs They are silent now, but with all these relics remaining, it is not difficult to imagine what passed here—the every day life, the eating and drinking, the reception of guests, the courtly manner of the patrician, the smiling beauty of the daughter, the fluttering of her heart beneath the glance of the favored suitor for her hand—love the same then as now. But all was changed in an hour—a change which has remained fixed and unalterable through nearly 18 centuries.

OTHER HOUSES

Opposite the house of Sallust is the large three story residence of Julius Polibus, who was owner perhaps of the hotel by the gate. A little farther up the street is the house. Pansa, another patrician, whose mansion is even larger than that of Sallust, being 300 feet long by 120 wide. It is a palace with porticos, corinthian columns, mosaics in colored marbles, a fish pond in the court, a reservoir and fountain, a garden, the entire building rich in mosaic pavements. We enter a bed chamber—the death chamber of five members of this household Here, in fright, they sought shelter when the fiery storm burst upon the city—here panted, gasped for breath and died—suffocated by the hot, stifling air. In the cellar of the house of Diomede, outside the gate, you may see upon the wall the outlines of a human form, left there by the decaying body of one of his family of such a hue that everybody would go out to see it were it not that the grand spectacle of blood is about to commence.

THE GREAT CATARACTS.

But see! It shoots suddenly upward—a pillar tall and straight, thousands of feet, to the upper air—expanding there, rolling in billows, as if driven by fierce tempests, filled now with fiery streams, bars, bolts, crimson flames, forked lightnings; the mountain's top, the firm and solid ground where Spartacus once pitched his tent and marshaled his soldiers, uplifted in an instant and shot—earth thunderbolts, molted lava, red hot stones, boiling streams of water, up to the very heavens!

It is no longer a vine-clad peak, green with verdure, but a boiling caldron, brimming over, withering, scorching, burning up pines, plantations of olives, vineyards, fields of wheat, houses, temples, villages and towns

Rivers of fire roll down the mountain's slope, Cataracts of molten rock roll over the precipices Brooks and springs disappear in vapor, ascending in clouds of steam, descending in boiling rain, mingled with red hot hail of cinders, scoria, half melted stones and ashes, raining horrible tempest on all the country round

Fiercest lightnings, fearful thunderings, the earth heaving like the ocean, the cloud all dark above, but underneath its rolling fold, illuminated by colors of every hue, the air thick with fumes of sulphur and life destroying vapors—all of this bursting in an instant from the mountain top, where never in human history has there been a sign that volcanic fire has been slumbering beneath the seemingly solid ground. In the primeval ages, before the existence of the human race, the internal fires of the earth here found vent, but for the thousands of years the volcano has been extinct

But to-day, on this 24th of August, in the year 79, it flames once more in indescribable fury What a commotion in the amphitheater! No longer a thought of the spectacle in the arena, for a mightier one is above them, appalling and fearful to behold Where now the insensibility to fear—the vaunted Roman virtue? Pale cheeks instead and trembling limbs. What heart piercing wails of anguish! Sudden the flight through yonder passage way to find shelter from the burning rain drops, scorching scoria and red hot stones falling from the awful thunder cloud Up the streets in eager haste, into the houses, seeking refuge in cellars, breathing stifling air, finding no safety there; fleeing to the boats on the beach, but only to find the sea has fled, that the place where they have often bathed their limbs in the dashing wave is a mile inland Then hastening down the coast, fleeing they know not whither, with all the country in flames—the mountain, fields, forests, vineyards, villages, towns, their own houses from which they have fled—the very air around them filled with lightnings—night closing in at noon,—the sun gone out in darkness—cries of men, shriekings of women, howlings of beasts, thunderings of earthquakes, the land as unstable as the sea, all cries and prayers to Jupiter unavailing. Is not this the burning universe?—Carleton, in Boston Journal.

FROM OWYHEE.

We obtain the following mining news from the Avalanche of the 13th inst

FLINT DISTRICT.

We have frequently alluded to the organization of companies in Iowa for the purpose of operating in Owyhee quartz. There are two companies in Iowa represented by Joseph Gafford and Uriah Perry, respectively—agents. These gentlemen are empowered to commence operations at once A ten stamp mill and one of Knox's Crushers will be erected in Flint District this Summer, under their supervision Work on the Forrest ledge continued through the past Winter, and by time reduction works are erected, the Iowa capitalists will have a considerable showing of quartz—a precaution never before displayed by Eastern companies in Owyhee. So far as heard from, the Forrest ledge is immensely rich in silver, and it is hoped that the new companies may realize to that extent on their investments. The experience of thousands "gone before" should teach these men the importance of a careful application of the maxim—"go slow." The distance Owyhee is from every source of supply, except wood and water, demands the exercise of general business knowledge in connection with that of opening a ledge and reducing its contents, to insure a judicious expenditure of capital in mining ventures. However rich, deep and wide quartz ledges may be, their successful development in any country hinges entirely upon the caution and economy employed. Flint District, with a climate naturally all that could be wished, the road finished to Camp McDermit, and capital properly applied on its ledges—must be in three years or less, one of the thriftiest camps on the coast.

SILVER CORD

Visited the works of this mine during the week, and am more than ever sanguine of the great value thereof. In the discovery works, the main shaft has been sunk eighty feet from the landing and timbered in a perfectly safe and solid manner The ore has been carefully sampled from top to bottom and found to average sufficiently rich to pay a fine profit In every department of mining, hauling and milling, economy will be used The ledge is large and will soon be opened to the best advantage for future operations A greater depth is not needed for a year or more, and ore will from this time on increase rapidly on the dump, where the different classes will be arranged in the order of their respective values

The first south extension—recently purchased by Mr. L. J. Lewis—is being put in the condition of a mine Without any question, this part of the Silver Cord is so rich that much of the ore will be shipped to New York for reduction by smelting We particularly observed a body of this very rich ore for many feet along the tunnel, and found by panning out the decomposed and crumbling quartz that almost every particle was filled with free gold and sulphurets of silver, besides the free gold found in the dirt—by panning

Mr Pearson, the mining Superintendent, has been bending all his forces to get the Silver Cord mines in proper shape for continual production, and it will still be some time before his plans will be perfected, but sufficient has been done to insure the right outcome

NEW YORK LEDGE

The New York ledge has been leased by Messrs Royer and Higley, (may be others are included,) and some two weeks ago they commenced preparations to take out ore The snow had to be removed, windlass rigged, shaft-house erected and blacksmith shop provided—all of which has been done well, and the work of taking out milling ore commenced. The works are under the charge of Mr McCready, and a look at his arrangements shows that he understands his position thoroughly He has the ore carefully and intelligently assorted in the mine, and not any granite or talc is allowed to get into the dump pile to swell the expenditures of hauling and crushing and injure the reputation of the mine Before breaking down a body of ore, the floor upon which it falls is cleanly swept, and if perchance worthless matter falls among it, it is thrown aside and not sent up with the ore We examined the dump and are free to say that it is unmixed with worthless rock The ledge is two feet wide and the ore rich enough to insure it being profitably worked The present shaft is down over fifty feet and under the contract is to be sunk thirty more. Mr McCready says that with the start he will have by the time hauling can be done, he will be enabled to constantly supply fifteen or more stamps The Web foot Mill will be started as soon as the roads are in a passable condition

HAYS AND RAY

The Hays & Ray lower tunnel is now in nearly six hundred feet, and the ledge is improving in quality, some of the ore being very rich in gold and silver The air in the work is becoming very foul, and an artificial supply will soon be a necessity At the rate of progress made so far, the tunnel will reach the Poorman works as early, if not before the first of June It has just been decided to sink a shaft at the south line and at the bottom of the Poorman works to connect with the tunnel. The mine will be in condition by June to supply a hundred stamps if desirable to do so The affairs of the company presage an immense business this summer We have it quite direct that W D Walbridge, Esq, will have the sole charge of the Poorman mine this year—may be longer

WAR EAGLE

Visited several of the mines on this mountain Wednesday, and our firm belief that they are the richest of which we have any account has been refreshed with much additional evidence The quality of the ore is always the great point to be ascertained, but that part was satisfactory more than a year ago The rich ore is being disclosed more plentifully and the care and system with which it is mined give proof that no more temporary suspensions will ensue from hauling and crushing more talc and granite than metal bearing quartz Let grumblers grumble and whiners whine, the Owyhee mines make a satisfactory showing to those most nearly interested, and who have any personal knowledge of them.

ORO FINO.

Mr. Gove, Secretary O F. & M S. M Co, visited the Oro Fino mine during the week, and found the works in a better state of preservation than could have been anticipated. No bad luck to encounter, the company will soon be able to put the mine and mill in condition for continuous operation. There is a more than ordinary desire in camp to have the Oro Fino worked on a plan that will satisfy the public there is "no foolishness,"

THE RISING STAR MINE,

In Flint District, is yielding richer ore than ever—so we are informed by Mr. Greenwell He showed us a small chunk, brought from there a few days ago, which is more than half silver in weight An assay recently made of this ore shows it to be worth $5,000 per ton. As we are told, the quantity of this rich stuff is increasing The Flint mills will both start up next week on the Rising Star.

IT'S DARK.—The following beautiful sentiments are from Meister Karl's Sketch Book, entitled the "Night in Heaven." It is full of touching tenderness.

"It is dark when the honest and honorable man sees the result of years swept crubily away by the knavish, heartless adversary. It is dark when he feels the clouds of sorrow gather round and knows that the hopes and happiness of others are fading with his own. But in that hour the memory of past integrity will be a true consolation, and assure him even here on earth of gleams of light in Heaven. It is dark when the dear voice of that sweet child once fondly loved is no more heard around in murmurs Dark when the pattering feet no more resound without the threshold, or ascend step by step up stairs Dark when some well known air recalls the strain once oft attuned by childish voice now hushed in death! Darkness; but only the gloom which now heralds the day spring of immortality, and the infinite light of Heaven."

A MAN THROWN EIGHTY FEET INTO THE AIR—HIS HEAD AND SHOULDERS CRUSHED—The Appleton Crescent gives an account of the killing of Christian Trussell in the woods, in Dale, Outagamie county, by the most singular and terrific accident, as follows: It appears that a party of men were in the woods with him cutting a fallow, and where they were chopping two large trees had been felled—one across the other—the one on top balancing nearly. The man who was killed was chopping near these trees, and another party having a large tree about ready to come down, hailed him to look out—when he ran and stood on top of the balancing tree to see the other come down The men then brought the tree to the ground, which struck the other end of the tree on which Trussell was standing, and the tremendous weight of it coming upon the spring lever, threw him like a shell into the air upwards of eighty feet In coming down, one of his legs from his knee to his hip was shattered to atoms, and the back of his head was stove in. He came down head first. He was taken up with some life in him, but soon expired.

The researches of M Dupont in the caverns and quaternary deposits along the course of the river Lesse, in France, have been attended with considerable success. Fourteen caves were discovered, in one of which, the Chaleux Cave, about thirty thousand flint implements have been exhumed, together with a plentiful assemblage of bones of the reindeer, fox, badger, polecat, hare and water rat. Most of these animals are supposed to have served as food for man

MINERAL IN WISCONSIN —On two sections of land in Grant county, Wisconsin, the total amount of mineral raised since the mines were first opened has been 140,000,000 pounds, worth $7,700,0000 It is said there are three or four localities in Grant, Lafayette and Iowa counties which figure up with equal productiveness

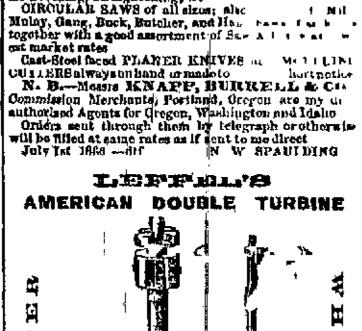
LEFFEL'S AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, unequaled and unrivaled in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, more than forty being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c, &c

On account of the extraordinary demand, our stock of wheels is considerably reduced, and we are entirely out of several sizes, therefore parties contemplating using our wheel, to be certain of securing them in time, should give their order at least three months before they expect to get them, that we may be able to make them by the time needed

We cheerfully refer to all using our wheels and are assured that all will affirm that our wheels accomplish all and even more than we claim for them Address
